Business Development: From Start to Scale

Assignment Questions 2026

Week 2 – Business Development Strategies

Q1) Ikea's business development is based, fundamentally, on:

a. Minimalist but durable and elegant furniture
b. Restaurants
c. Custom manufacturing of furniture
d. It being a European company

Q2) McDonald's is a:

a. Primarily US brand
b. Primarily EU brand
c. Primarily Asian brand
d. Global brand

Q3) What describes Toyota best?

a. Toyota Production System
b. Small car manufacture
c. Toyoda Tsusho exports
d. Toyoda textile looms

Q4) Business markets could be larger and more stable, but are characterised by:

a. Reverse marketing
b. Higher buyer power
c. Lower buyer power
d. Lower competition

Q5) Which of the following is an example of a whole new market getting built around a completely novel product?

a. 6-inch plus-size smartphone
b. Low-emission ICE vehicle
c. Drone
d. Wide-bodied aircraft

Q6) Which of the following helps strategic marketing and business development for industrial transformations?

a. Sales feedback
b. Exponential smoothing
c. Statistical forecasting
d. Analysis of mega trends

Q7) A particular shoe company is famous for its “Just do it” campaign. Which of the following is the company?

a. Adidas
b. Sketchers
c. Reebok
d. Nike

Q8) Which of the following is not a disruptive technology required for zero/clean emission vehicles?

a. BS6 emission technology
b. Electric battery technology
c. Green hydrogen technology
d. Fuel Cell technology

Q9) Business development leaders successfully market:

a. Opportunities
b. The future potential
c. Strengths
d. Threats and risks

Q10) Marico had to fend off hostile actions from an MNC with regard to coconut oil and a business takeover. The MNC was:

a. Hindustan Lever
b. Colgate
c. Procter & Gamble
d. None of the above